Now We Know
Everybody Happy, Almost
What Is Government?
No Labor Party, Yet

Current Events
By Arthur Brisbane

THE COUNTRY knows all about it now, or enough to settle the most important questions. The price of wheat, and other things considered, La Follette pulled a big vote. And final figures may make it bigger. A third party depends largely on dissatisfaction with old parties. On this occasion, there was only one party really running against La Follette. The Democratic party, nationally, didn't count. With conditions in America as they are, the number of the dissatisfied is not gigantic. And at the last minute the dissatisfied farmers on whom La Follette counted were soothed by wheat selling around $1.50 a bushel.

WHEAT AND CORN went up yesterday, and stocks, especially railroad stocks, were most cheerful. Cotton was less satisfactory. December contracts down to 22½ cents, at least 7½ cents lower than the price ought to be.

THIS DAY devoted to national government being over, not to come again for four years, it might be worth while to satisfy a definition of government.

According to Aristotle, it is, "First, to use that man shall live; second, use that they shall live well." That abbreviation of Aristotle's theory in A. E. Zimmerman's admirable essay on Greek politics is as good a definition as any.

To see, first, that men live, they are supplied with what they need, and are not killed by their enemies, and second, to see that they live well, in comfort, free from worry—that's government.

THUS FAR governments have been fairly successful in making a certain small number of men happy. The efforts of new parties and radical parties to extend the well being to a greater number, or to all, succeed slowly.

THE MAIN problem of government at this time, with nations instead of individuals competing, is to keep things moving. This country needs to go on doing business more than it needs to discover some better way of doing business. It needs to keep factories and farms going, and it's quite certain that the task, for the moment, is helped by leaving things as they are.

NINETEEN hundred and twenty-eight is a long way off. But already friends of Governor Smith in New York are saying, "Next time the Democrats will be asking Al Smith to help them. Instead of kicking him out of the convention, they will point to his vote in New York, more than wiping out Coolidge's sweep, and moving under the son of Theodore Roosevelt, and say that Al Smith, if nominated, could do what no other Democrat could do."

THINK WILL tell about the campaign will be fought out on three hitherto unknown in United States politics.

You realize that even the power of party habit can be broken when you see white Democrats in the South voting for a Republican Governor and colored men and women voting for a Democratic candidate. For the present, however, the old Republican party is boss, with Calvin Coolidge at the head. Having unforeseen calamity, he ought to be about as strong four years from now as Theodore Roosevelt was at the end of his first term.

Roosevelt could gnash his teeth hard and bite off striking phrases. But Coolidge's quiet silence seems also to contain the essence of success.

THIS BIGGEST popular vote that any man ever got in American history is the Coolidge vote, by the way, estimated at more than 15,000,000. It is clear that for the present there isn't going to be any "gigantic political labor party" in the United States.

Mr. Gomper, head of the American Federation of Labor, says the following in vote for La Follette.

THE WEATHER.
Rain tonight and today; cooler Friday.
Sun rises 6:22; sets 5:32.
High tide 7:02 a. m.; 1:27 p. m.

RESPLENDENT METEORS OF CHURCH CONFESSIONS
Ku Klux Organizer Admits Breaking Into Vermont Cathedral

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 6.—As he was about to go to trial today charged with being a central figure in a great Ku Klux Klan conspiracy to desecrate Roman Catholic churches of New England, Klaghe William C. Moyers, organizer for the Klan, pleaded guilty to breaking into and despoiling St. Mary's Cathedral here on August 28.

Moyers made his confession in similar charges. They are Gordon Wells and William C. McCreedy of this city.

Two others are held here on similar charges. They are Gordon Wells and William C. McCreedy of this city.

They probably will be arraigned later and the sentencing of Moyers will be deferred until they have been tried, unless, as seems likely, they enter pleas of guilty. Moyers had been held on a specific charge of robbery. Under an agreement with State Attorney E. H. Hurler, he pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny.

The arrest of Moyers followed a search for him in several States. He made a desperate but unsuccessful fight against extradition and indictment when he was brought back here from Tennessee charged with the St. Mary's Cathedral crime as well as with inspiring a plot to pillage or burn all the Catholic churches of Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. The plot of Moyers to raid the church in the Clarendon court.

TRAILED BY HUB MAN.
Detective Edward C. Brown of Boston, who caused the arrest of Moyers after trailing him to New Market, Tenn., was captured for the action that the Klaghe had induced Wells and McCreedy, together with Moyers, to raid the church in the Clarendon court.

COMMUNIST PAPER ANNOUNCES RADICALS ARE PLANNING TO TAKE ACTION
Paris, Nov. 6 (I.N.S.)—The Communist newspaper Humanite announced today that there will be a Red meeting tonight for an "international manifestation to prevent the execution of Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti, who were convicted in the Massachusetts courts of murder and robbery."

Both men are to fall in Massachusetts. Announcement of the demonstration led to reports that threats had been sent to the United States Embassy, but this was officially denied by Charge d'Affaires Whitman.

No special steps have been taken to guard the Embassy. Myron S. Herrick, the American Ambassador, is in the United States.

"Two letters were received asking for the release of Sacco and Vanzetti, but neither one of them contained any threats," the charge d'affaires told International News Service.

"We have neither asked for special police protection, nor have there been any special guards assigned to the Embassy."

The case of Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti, which attracted attention all over the world, was before the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts after nearly five years of litigation in the Superior Court.

The men stand convicted of the murder of Edward J. Kelly, a shoe factory manager in South Braintree, for the purpose of robbery. Their bill of exceptions and plea for a new trial, covering 2,250 pages, was recently overruled by Judge Thayer, the original trial judge.

The men have not been sentenced. It has been contended that testimony of their being radical added the government in its prosecution.

Their bill of exceptions, now before the highest State court, is based chiefly on testimony witnesses called to identify the two men, and in the fact that defense experts declare the death bullet did not fit the shoe gun.

STRICKEN SENATOR'S LATEST PICTURE
HENRY CABOT LODGE

United States Senator, Massachusetts, after shock suffered at hospital, where two operations were performed.

Senator Lodge's condition remains unchanged—hopeful, the men believe, signed by Dr. Frederick Winslow and Dr. John B. Cunningham read.

The Senate Senator, John Lodge, suffered a severe shock yesterday, following two operations. In an earlier bulletin the doctor said:

"The shock suffered by Senator Lodge involved a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain and came wholly out of a clear sky."

"It was similar to the customary shock suffered by elderly people."

The Senator at 8 a. m. was still unconscious and the outcome of the operation is absolutely uncertain."

Senator Lodge's condition continues exactly the same. He may continue in this condition for some time, but it is impossible at the present moment to state what the outcome of his condition will be. I anticipate no immediate change in Senator Lodge's condition."

In a supplementary explanatory bulletin on the same Massachusetts Senator's malady, Dr. Cunningham said today:

"On July 27 Senator Lodge suffered an acute infection from pneumonia, an emergency operation was performed from which the patient made good recovery."

The period from then on until the second operation was one of adjustment from the acute condition, precipitated by the pneumonia, to the chronic condition of the patient."

GERMANY MAKES MOVE TO REGAIN COLONIES
Bonn, Nov. 6 (I.N.S.)—The German government today announced that it had made a move to regain the colonies lost in 1918.

The move was made by the arrival of Count Schuler, German minister, who, acting unofficially as a representative of the German government, has urged the president to initiate a campaign of the League of Nations to secure the restoration of a colonial policy in connection with a new treaty conference of the question of restoration to Germany of some of the mandated former German territory.

PONZI INSISTS SURPLUS WAS $10,000,000
That he would prove he was innocent of any misappropriation of attempt to defraud, and show that when his business was stopped he had "within the grasp" ten million dollars more than was owing to creditors, were some of the assertions made by Charles W. Ponzi, when he opened the case for his own defense in the United States Court today.

Ponzi, who is serving his own counsel, is on trial on five indictments charging larceny of $15,000,000 from investors.

GOVERNMENT BUSTS CASE.
The government used the case and Ponzi took to the hospital in his own behalf shortly before the noon hour.

The last witness in the government was Henry Bell, now Mrs. Christopher, formerly secretary to Ponzi, who was examined briefly regarding various points of matters.

The ex-convict and politician asserted that the government had failed to prove its contention that he had made fraudulent representations to investors in an attempt to defraud.

"I propose to show," he declared, "that my representations were true and were known to be true."

The present action of the government, he said, was an attempt to defraud and that "no case was made to prove the government's contention that I had made fraudulent representations and that my early representations were not as some made by the government."

The government sought to prove that Ponzi had not, as he represented, been interested in Italy. Continued on Page 2, Column 8.

Family at Bedside, Seeking for Some Slight Sign of Recognition

Hope for the recovery of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was given up today by his attending physicians at the Charles-George Hospital, where, at noon, he had been unconscious twenty-four hours.

"Senator Lodge's condition remains unchanged—hopeful," the men believe, signed by Dr. Frederick Winslow and Dr. John B. Cunningham read.

CLAGGETT HOPE DIES ON LATE RETURNS
Supporters of Siras V. Claggett, Democratic candidate for State Auditor against Almon B. Cook, present incumbent, gave up hope today with the receipt of delayed returns from Springfield and Fitchburg.

These showed that, instead of the heavy vote Claggett expected, he was defeated in both cities by his Republican opponent.

In Fitchburg, where the Democratic candidate expected to gain because of the big Walsh vote, Cook pulled out with a lead of 272, the vote being Cook, 5,331, and Claggett, 4,242.

Claggett had hoped for an even break in Springfield, but the returns showed Cook got up a lead in that city of 5,092. The figures were: Cook, 12,579, and Claggett, 11,677.

Although tabulation of the Boston vote on the State Auditor fight was not complete today and figures will not be given out until tomorrow, Claggett's supporters assumed it would be a foregone conclusion that his candidacy in the city would not over.

Haven, Conn., rushed down the stairways early today when fire erupted in the building.
Great clouds of smoke poured up through the structure sent the occupants on a mad rush through the hallways and downstairs to the street.
Frightened children were assured to safety by their elders living in the block.
The fire started in a first floor

Corpus, but he asserted that he had done so.

"I did find in the reply coupons, as I mentioned," he said, "that I proposed to show also that I purchased foreign exchange."
"I propose to show that there was a time when I had a large amount of money, in fact, millions.
In my opinion, and had a chance to leave the country and live happily ever after, on that money, and that instead I remained here and even back all that I had of my own free will."
"And I propose to show, further, that of all the money I took to I did not appropriate one cent for myself, but that I turned over money from sources other than investors and that as long as I was permitted to have my checks honored, I paid all my notes as they fell due."
"I propose to show that the amount left after I was stopped was enough to pay all in full and that at the time I was stopped I had with in my grasp the sum of ten million dollars, the money of what I owed."

NAMES FIRST NATIONAL
"I propose to show that the First National Bank of Boston was connected by contract with my business."
"After I was stopped it was not possible for me to follow any other course than to serve a five-year term."

At this point Judge Blish, presiding, interrupted the speaker and directed the jury to disregard his last assertion.
"Well, I only wanted them to know that I served five years," he said.
"I proposed to show that I was proven not guilty," but Judge Blish halted him and there was a whispered conference between the judge and the prisoner. At last Ponzi started again.

"I propose to show that I was proven not guilty," but Judge
Blish halted him and there was a whispered conference between the
judge and the prisoner. At last Ponzi
started again.

HALTED BY JUDGE
"I have been a victim," but again
he was halted and finally wound up his open speech with:
"I have been guilty of no criminal intent. What I said I believed and what I said was true and I shall prove it."

If Ponzi intended dealing in international reply coupons, there was no evidence of this intention in his books. Charles F. Hittnerhouse, auditor, testified near the end of the State case.

An instant cross-examination of Hittnerhouse by Ponzi failed to draw from the auditor any admission that he believed or found evidence that Ponzi had intended to trade in international coupons.

The auditor admitted, however, that the books showed a $38,000 deposit in a bank in Italy, but refused to consent to Ponzi's suggestion that this money was sent overseas to Italy
by Ponzi.

WIFE IN COURT
Following the cross-examination,
Mrs. Ponzi, clad in sombre brown, left her seat in the witness section and conferred with her husband across the rail.

A second witness was Amato Catallo, grocer of Hanover street, who testified in direct examination by the prosecuting attorney, that he invested in total of $100 in the Ponzi project in July, 1920, but died to retrieve his money less than a month later.

Ponzi attempted in cross-examination to draw admission from the witness that he hoped to realize 50 percent on his investment in forty-five days.

Catello, however, insisted that he merely wanted his investment back.

hops of discrediting another Kleagle

In his confession, which is believed responsible for the sudden collapse of Meyer's fight, McCready is said to have admitted that he participated in the raid on the Catholic party because of his Klan affiliations and partly because he was curious to learn whether Klan reports of guns and deadly acids stored in Roman Catholic places of worship, were true.

PASTOR WARNS FLOCK

So great was the indignation occasioned by the raid on the church that when word was received here of the arrest of Meyer, the pastor of St. Mary's deemed it advisable to issue this warning to members of his flock.

"Do not take the law into your own hands, under any circumstances, such action can only bring disaster upon the church. The duly constituted authorities can deal with this situation."

Resistance was strong, not only among Roman Catholics in this district, but among Klansmen. Klan officials of this district, highly vengeful their tolerance regarding the raid and during the night they schemed to get down the ticket.

ARMISTICE DAY PROCLAIMED BY COX

Governor Sets Anniversary, November 11, as Date for Observance

The Armistice Day proclamation of Governor Cox, in part, follows: "Six years ago, on a clear November morning, Americans were awakened by the joyful pealing of bells, proclaiming that the greatest war in history had culminated in victory, hard earned and well won."

"As that day of triumph recedes, the spirit of our people, thankful that the cup of conflict was so soon permitted to pass, and soberly conscious that some of the problems and burdens coming out of that war are still upon us, pause in recollection of our own part in that great struggle."

"Let us, on this anniversary, remember the men, clear-eyed and young, who stood between us and defeat, who happily went forward, who suffered without complaint, who rendered the world service of our allies, pushed forward and saved the day for humanity. It is fitting that the people of Massachusetts, in their homes, their places of worship and the meeting places of their social and fraternal organizations, observe Armistice Day, by giving recognition to the dedication which we owe to those who brought victory to our arms and those who close to the field of operations supported our army and navy. It is also fitting that we take renewed inspiration from such deeds, that the citizenship which was so valiantly maintained shall in time of peace be strengthened and sustained."

"Above all let us seek the guidance of Almighty God, that we may walk in righteous paths and that we may deserve and enjoy the blessings of an honorable peace, maintained under His protection with all the nations of the world."

Hunting Ban Off

Concord, N. H., Nov. 6.—The ban on hunting, which has been State-wide for a week, was lifted in Concord County. The entire county is covered with snow from two to six inches deep.

WESTFIELD MAN IS SUICIDE BY DROWNING

Westfield, Nov. 6.—Frank L. Mason, seventy years old, for more than a quarter of a century a furniture director employed by the Lamborn Furniture Company until his retirement several years ago committed suicide by drowning in the Westfield river. Mr. Mason suffered a shock several years ago which necessitated his retirement. It is understood that he recently had made a number of unfortunate financial investments which had left him in a highly nervous and dependent condition.

Papocatapetl In Eruption; Quake Not Feared

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—Mt. Popocatepetl, Mexico's great volcano, today continued to emit vast clouds of smoke and ashes at irregular intervals.

Scientists declare that there is slight danger of an eruption, but the natives in the vicinity are highly alarmed.

MAN STEPS INTO PATH OF AUTO, KILLED

Providence, R. I., Nov. 6.—Walter E. Moon, fifty-nine years old, of Narragansett, received fatal injuries when he was struck by an automobile operated by John J. Barry of No. 75 Abbott street, as he was crossing Charles street. Moon suffered a fracture of the skull and died soon after reaching the Rhode Island Hospital.

According to information received by the police, Moon stepped from behind one automobile in front of the car driven by Barry. Barry was held on the charge of manslaughter, and was released on bail.

FIRE TWISTS RAILS ON MAINE CENTRAL LINE

Oldtown, Me., Nov. 6.—The mill plant of the Wing & Engel Bus Company, manufacturers of wooden parking cases, was entirely wiped out by a fire which started from some causes and spread rapidly through the wooden buildings. The loss will reach from $75,000 to $100,000.

Fire departments were sent from Bangor, Brewer and Milford. The main line of the Maine Central Railroad will be blocked until the road and rails twisted by the fire can be replaced.

MARTIAL LAW IN NILES IS REVOKED

Columbus, O., Nov. 6 (A.P.)—Governor Denney has signed a proclamation lifting qualified martial law at Niles. The military had been in control of the city since last Saturday.

decide to retire from the manufacturing business and sell to us EVERY coat in their entire stock—

The retail price, if bought by us in the regular way, would approximate $45,000.

The values are, of course, remarkable. The variety is great—And yet—we advise you to investigate without delay.

NEVER in our history have we made one such a tremendous purchase of high grade coats in women's sizes exclusively.

But for thirty-three years we have bought from Rubin Brothers every season. We know the quality of their materials and workmanship.

We knew that if we bought a thousand coats every one would be true to size—a 38 if it were marked a 38—whatever the material requirement.

We knew that every coat would show beautiful tailoring—linings felled by hand and interlinings warm and generously used, with linings of splendid quality and taste.

We knew that by taking every coat they had we would get a price concession which would be absolutely phenomenal—and we did.

So we did not hesitate to take at one sweep, their entire stock, rejoicing in the opportunity to present such coats at savings that will demonstrate again the important part that value-giving plays in Shepard Service.

Naturally we bought at a RIDICULOUSLY LOW FIGURE.

And for The Shepard Stores to sell any such immense quantities sell at prices AVERAGING ABNORMALLY SMALL.

Rubin Brothers

have been in business 33 years. During all this time, we bought from them largely and successfully, and they confirmed their merchandise to us. Therefore, this opportunity came TO YOU—THROUGH US.

Haverhill Holdup Halted Shoe Help To Let Victim Wait On Girl

Truce Period Ends Saturday: Cambridge Bandits Then Take Proceeds of Sale From Merchants

Haverhill, Nov. 6.—Shoe workers in local plants are planning to ask, through their union, for increased wages for many operations. Two bandits halted the robbery of the Haverhill Shoe Shop at No. 178A Massachusetts street, Cambridge, long enough to permit the proprietress, Max Herwitz, to attend to the needs of a girl customer, and then ran their victims off the money. The bandits armed with a revolver and knife, had Herwitz and her assistant, Nathan Conkock, locked against the wall when a girl entered the store. The holdup men promptly pocketed their weapons, stepped back and motioned for Herwitz to wait on the customer. The girl left the store a moment later and a youth, Frank Power, entered. Power, a messenger boy employed in the store, with the other two was headed into a back room. One of the bandits went through the proprietress's pockets, taking his money. After looting the cash register and collecting a fur coat and a dress, the bandits escaped.

The new street lighting system makes Medford Square a great white way. This week retail shops, stores, banks, in fact all places of business have combined to make the opening of the Great White Way a banner occasion.

Professional and business men of Medford Square and other parts of Medford have pledged their co-operation to make this week a particularly successful one for all.

Right in your own City of Medford hundreds of substantial stores carry up to date, high grade and dependable merchandise. Prices are right. It will pay you to shop in the stores in Medford.

MEDFORD PEOPLE SHOP IN MEDFORD

Real Estate is the greatest barometer of a locality's prosperity. In the City of Medford for the year 1923 more than $1,500,000 was expended in home building projects. With the closing of the present year last year's figures should exceed. The coming year should shatter all records of its predecessor. With the Brooks Estates development well under way and with these lots fast selling to prospective home builders, together with many new stores to be built throughout the city, Medford should enjoy a tremendous building boom in 1925.

Office of the Mayor
City Hall, Medford
November 5, 1924.

We all recognize the vital part that local business plays in the life of the community. Our business houses, situated as they are in the various centers of population, are equipped to serve both our own and neighboring people. There is ample buying power in Medford today. It is increasing with the growth of the community. I believe that in no other suburban city does local business more deserve the hearty support of the citizens. It is for our common interest that business enterprises established in our midst should prosper.

Richard C. Bourke
Mayor.
